Garden Club Board Meets; Discusses Ball

Mrs. P. J. O'Meara was hostess Monday afternoon to the executive board of the San Carlos Garden Club.

The board commended their committee working on the Chickens' Ball, and expressed satisfaction with the overall picture of their "fragrant" skit.

The participating members did a colorful hula number and had waxy white tuberose leis flown from Hawaii for the skit. They also wore gardenias in their hair and on their wrists. Going down into the audience to dance with the "cash customers" and distribute camellias, made the final hit which brought them a deserved award of one of the winners on the last night's performance. Appropriate to the club's activities, the "flowery" skit, was approved by the executive board.

G. W. Hinkley Jr., associated with the Organic Factors and Chemical Co. of San Francisco, will be the guest speaker at the next general meeting of the club, on Friday in Cherrington Hall. Mr. Hinckley will speak on "Organic Materials in the Garden."

According to Mrs. T. J. Murphy, publicity chairman, the speaker will present information on aids for the present trend in gardening. "His plan makes it possible to have a satisfactory garden 12 months of the year," says Mrs. Murphy.

Mrs. John R. Metcalf (Catherine Jane Rolph) general chairman, has announced that the theme of the show will be "The Wheel of Fashion Turns" and will feature "the nostalgic return of femininity in the spring clothes which is reminiscent of the gas light era."

Forty league members will model the spring styles which will be furnished by a San Francisco store.

The show will be divided into five groups. The first, beach wear and play clothes; second, full skirted dresses with petticoats; third, Gibson Girl blouses and shirtwaist dresses; fourth, coats, suits and costumes showing the return to elegant fabrics; and fifth, the evening gowns of organdy, lace and taffeta.

As a special feature an additional 10 girls, dressed in costumes of the past, will form tableaux before each group of clothes which are modeled. Joan Mattos, Gerald Akers Exchange Wedding Vows

Joan E. Mattos, of San Mateo, became the bride of Gerald Akers, of San Carlos, last week at the San Carlos Community Church.

The Rev. Waldon Batty performed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Akers wore a grey suit of heavy silk, fashioned with the new flared skirt and short bolero jacket, for the wedding. A pale pink blouse and jabot with pink ruffle at the sleeve, accented the suit. Her pink flowered halo hat and grey accessories, and a corsage of orchids, completed the outfit.

Mrs. Hazel Price, one of the bride's large family of four sisters and two brothers, acted as matron of honor. She wore a brown suit and accessories, with gardenias.

Paul Farrell, of San Francisco, a boyhood chum of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Hazel Price, Gerald's former music teacher, played the organ for the services.

A reception for members of the immediate family followed the wedding, at the home of the A. W. Akers, the groom's parents, on Eaton Ave., in San Carlos.

Gerald, who spent five years in the recent world war, three of which were spent overseas, was in the communications division of the army. He is now employed as radio technician and electrician for the United Airlines in South San Francisco.

The young couple went directly to their new home in Redwood City after the ceremony, and will postpone their honeymoon until Gerald gets his vacation in June.

SM County Officials Discuss Plan to Obtain Navy Facilities

San Mateo County officials and representatives of north county cities met last week in Tanforan Navy Base Chapel to shape a plan to obtain $900,000 worth of recreation facilities at the navy base as a county project.

While all the officials who visited the San Bruno base last week openly voiced opinions that it would provide the county with a recreation center second to none in California, the opinion was unanimously that the cost of acquisition and the cost of operation must be the deciding factor.

Lt. O. J. Kniser, the only navy man at the base which once housed 2000 men, conducted a tour of the base which has two big swimming pools, bowling alley and other buildings.

A. V. Swift, chairman of the county recreation commission, took the lead in yesterday's procedings. At the suggestion of L. H. Gerber, representatives of the two commissions will go into the matter at once.

Swift said he also will arrange a meeting of city officials with the two commissions to study results of the survey.

Some of those present believed the bowling alleys, swimming pools and gymnasium would net enough revenue to make the project self-supporting.

W. W. Grundy, former mayor of San Bruno; made a plea that everything possible be done to acquire this center.

San Carlos OES Holds Meeting

San Carlos Chapter OES held its regular meeting last week, with Worthy Matron Bessie Poston and Worthy Patron Charles Mathieson, presiding.

Visitors present were Mildred and Carrol Sawyer, worthy matron and patron of the Burlingame chapter; W. M. Rose Tianizzi of Fireside Chapter, San Francisco; W. M. Jessie McLeish of Jarman Chapter, San Jose.

The Valentine motif was used for decor in the banquet and chapter rooms. Flowering quince was set in quaint picture frames in the East and West.

Thelma Anderson acted as general chairman for the affair with Myrtle Grinnell as chairman of the banquet room.

A program featuring the patriotic theme was augmented by dancers from the Burlingame chapter.

Initiation ceremonies are scheduled for the meeting to be held on Feb. 26.

Sewing Unit Organized in Woodside

To help fill the sewing quota of the Sequoia Chapter of the Red Cross, a new sewing unit has been organized in Woodside, according to Mrs. Frank Heathman, production service chairman.

This group, which meets at the Woodside Village Church each Wednesday from 1 to 5 p.m., has as its new project the making of slip covers for a day room at the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital.

Women attending this new unit include Mrs. Fred Reynolds, Mrs. George Robischung, Mrs. James Cochran, Mrs. Anna Collins, Mrs. Norine Santaluce and Mrs. Barbara Zwierlein.

Mrs. Heathman announced that more workers are needed to complete this project and anyone is invited to join this group.

Juveniles Blamed For Vandalism

Juveniles today were blamed by police for two cases of vandalism and one case of petty theft reported in Belmont over the weekend.

R. C. Ridgeway, Williams Ave. and North Rd., reported to police Sunday that water and gas pipes at his residence, now under construction, had been torn out sometimes during the past two weeks. Ridgeway told officers that the pipes had been ripped loose from their holdings, and estimated damage at $200.

Police said that vandals had also had damaged stucco and had broken windows at a store under construction at Academy St. and Ralston Ave.

Saturday night, Major Howard E. Brown reported to police that a chromium radiator ornament had been taken from his new car, parked in front of a residence at 2800 Newlands Ave. Brown told officers that shortly before he discovered the theft at 9 p.m., he saw four juveniles dressed in army fatigue jackets in the vicinity of Newlands and Cipriani Aves.

SC '48 Building Over $1,000,000

New building in San Carlos for 1948 has passed the million dollar mark according to Mrs. Alyse Rodgers, assistant to the San Carlos building inspector.

Mrs. Rodgers pointed out that last year at this time, new construction only totaled $500,000, and that the present Feb. 15 total is probably a building record for the city.

The valuation of buildings granted permits thus far this year was set by Mrs. Rodgers at $1,020,516. Permits for 86 new homes have been issued.

Last year San Carlos set an alltime building record with nearly $6,000,000 in construction recorded for 1947. San Carlos was second only to San Mateo in the county for total new building.

Press Club Plans Journalism Awards

High school senior journalism students here were invited Monday to compete for $1000 cash in the third annual San Francisco Press Club Scholarship Awards contest.

College scholarships of $250 each will be awarded in four divisions: for the best news story, the best news feature story, the best news photograph and the best radio news commentary.

All entries must be mailed by midnight, Apr. 17, and must bear the signature of a faculty journalism instructor or advisor. The contest is open to senior journalism students regularly enrolled in all high schools from Bakersfield to the Oregon state line.

Pres. Lawrence Davies of the Press Club said he believed the contest will "help keep alive the secure foundation on which American journalism is founded."

Contest regulations may be obtained by writing to the Scholarship Awards Committee, San Francisco Press Club, 449 Powell St., San Francisco.

Ladera Homesites Picked by Group

Members of the Peninsula Housing Assn. started making long-awaited lot selections last weekend at the association's housing project, Ladera, in the foothills west of Stanford University.

Approximately 200 members of the association have waited more than three years to reserve lots in the 258-acre tract where they will eventually build their homes.

Now that the site selection has opened up, each member will choose his lot in the order in which he joined the organization. Members will make their selections in groups of 25 to avoid confusion. It is expected that by the end of next weekend all members will have made choices.

The architectural firm of Funk & Stein of San Francisco will have experts on hand to explain details of land slope and proper placement of houses on sites. The firm's architects drew up site and house plans for the association.

Twenty basic house plans for the area have been developed by the architects. Choices of suggested plans were made by members themselves.
